Newsletter

Number 1 - May 2008

Dear Friends,

This spring marks the start of a couple of new initiatives to bring my art to a broader audience. One of these initiatives you are reading right now. Through this newsletter I will announce new work and major events. And the major event of this spring is the launch of my new home page. Check out <http://www.juliedenoncourt.com> for detailed coverage of my art, events, interesting links and much more. I hope you will enjoy these initiatives, and I look forward to hearing your comments.

Julie

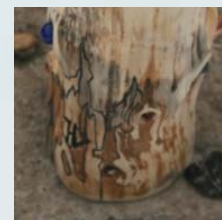

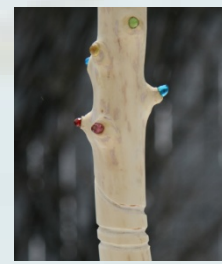

New butterfly series

Julie is working on an extended series of butterflies, ranging from very realistic to highly abstracted. Each piece is 7-7.5" by 11-12", acrylic on canvas. Anticipated retail price is around $400 (unframed) to $500 (framed).

Circular

Julie moves back into abstraction with her Circular Series. Check out the website for more information on the complete series and for prices.

Julie recycles Christmas trees !

It takes 6-7 years to grow a good-sized Christmas tree, and we only enjoy them for about a month. That is why Julie turns used Christmas trees into sculptures. Contact Julie for more information.
